

Be inspired to draw your own native threatened species

Tip: Start with a simple outline sketch and then add details & shading

A drawing on an A4 piece of paper makes a perfect kite southern tablelands arts

Southern Pygmy Perch

Nannoperca australis

A small, carnivorous, native fish that was once abundant in the Lachlan, Murrumbidgee and Murray river systems.

Conservation status in NSW: Endangered

image, public domain find out how to fold your finished drawing into a kite?

want to know more about the Southern Pygmy Perch?

Gunning District
Landcare

Upper Lachlan
Landcare