

Be inspired to draw your own native threatened species

Tip: Start with a simple outline sketch and then add details & shading

A drawing on an A4 piece of paper makes a perfect kite southern tablelands arts

Squirrel Glider

Petaurus norfolcensis

Have blue-grey to brown-grey fur above, white on the belly and the end third of the tail is black.

They build bowl-shaped, leaf lined nests in tree hollows

Conservation status in NSW: vulnerable

image, public domain find out how to fold your finished drawing into a kite?

want to know more about the Squirrel Glider?

Gunning District
Landcare

Upper Lachlan
Landcare